HAS TAMMANY FACED ABOUT?

URGING THE PASSAGE OF THE SENATE QUARANTINE BILL.

THE ALLEGED REASON IS THAT SENATOR

HARRIS HAS " ADJOURNED THE SUBJECT," BUT HE YIELDED TO SENATOR BILL.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Washington, Feb. 4.—Have the Tanniany Represent-atives in Congress changed front on the Quarantine bill, or have they concocted a deep scheme to prevent any quarantine legislation wintever by this Congress : If their own statements are to be accepted and there is no reason to suspect that they are not made in good faith by several, at least, of the Tammany Congressmen—Tannany is not only to withdraw his opposition to the bill which passed the Senate, but anxious that the measure should become a law as soon as practicable. Some of them, it is understood from indisputable authority, have been to Representative Rayler, of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, who has charge of the subject, and ured him to make an effort to pass the Senate bill-which is still on the Speaker's table-on Monday, under a suspension of the rules. Down to this afternoon no request had been made for recognition for that pur-

Some of the Tammany Representatives profess to feel dissatisfied because Senator Harris, as they express it, "has adjourned the subject" in the Senate take action by passing the Senate bill, either with or without amendment. Among the provisions of the Senate bill is one which carries an appropriation of $1,000,000 to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to carry out the other provisions of the proposed act and Tammany men now profess to be willing to agree to that, if necessary to prevent the failure One of them to-day suggested that Senate bill might be passed without amendment and sent to the President, who could walt ten days before approving it to see whether Congress would tass a bill which did not carry the appropriation He added: "It is very clear to me that this Congrescannot afford to be responsible for the failure to enac an efficient and proper quarantine law."

So far as Senator Harris is concerned, he does not appear to be subject to just criticism by any Tammany member of the House of Representatives. On Febru ary 1 he moved that the bill passed by the House ary 1 he moved that the bill passed by the House he considered, but was obliged to yield to the Appropriations Committee. To-day he would have tried again and the bill would probably have been passed if Mr. Harris hat not received a telegram from Senator Hill, who was here yesterday and somewhere else to-day, asking him not to call up the Quarantine bill miti Monday.

Mr. Hill will be present on Monday to make his motion for the consideration of the Sherman Silver Purchase Repeal bill, and if that motion falls, Mr. Harris will endeavor to secure action at once on the ourantine measure.

CHANCES OF THE ANTI-OPTION BILL IT IS REPORTED IN THE HOUSE-FRIENDS OF THE MEASURE DESPONDENT.

washington, Feb. 4 (Special) .- A report was curren this forenoon that Chairman Hatch will attempt the opponents of the Anti-Option bill by surprise on Menday by offering a motion to suspend the rule and send it to a committee of conference. In this relation it was asserted that all the friends of the bill had been told quietly to be on hand Monday morning to aid in carrying out the programme. Chair-man Hatch and other members of the Committee on Agriculture denied that such a scheme was afoot, and Speaker Crisp said this afternoon that no request had been made to him by Chairman Hatch or any other member for recognition in order that he might move to suspend the rules for the purpose above indicated.

Mr. Waugh, of Indiana, who is a member of the Committee on Agriculture, said to a Tribune corre spondent that the understanding among members the committee is that an effort shall be made have the House consider the Senate amendments in committee of the Whole. If that effort shall fall there will be a resort to some other method. Friends of the bill who were asked to-day for an expression of opinion in regard to its prospects took rather gloomy view of the situation, as a rule, and some of them frankly said that the defeat of the measure seemed to be inevitable. The bill was reported from the Committee on Agriculture to-day and placed on

TWO APPROPRIATION BILLS PASSED.

Washington, Feb. 4.-The House in Committee the Whole considered the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation bill. There was no general debate and the bill was read for amendments.

Mr. Hermann urged an amendment abolishing the position of Consul-General at Honolulu. He made this amendment, he said, in view of the fact that in a short time there would be no necessity for a Consul General at Honolulu. Having emphasized this feeling he withdrew the amendment.

The Military Academy Appropriation bill was then considered. There was no opposition made to the bill. which was passed without division.

Public business was then suspended to enable the House to pay tribute to the late J. W. Kendall, of After remarks by Messrs, McCreary, Paynter, Caruth, Bunn, G. W. Stone, of Pennsylvania; McKinney and Smith, of Hilmols; Weaver and Wilson, of Kentucky; and Belkinap, the House, at 3:55, out of respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned.

THE M'GARRAHAN CLAIM APPEARS AGAIN. Washington, Feb. 4 .- The McGarrahan bill, which recently failed to pass over the President's veto, like Banque's ghost, will not down. It was favorably reported to the Senate again to-day, but amended so a to meet the objections raised in the veto message Under the present bill the claim goes to the Court of Claims, with that body sitting upon it simply as court of inquiry. Its findings will not be a judgment. but more in the nature of a recommendation. After the court has passed upon the legality of McGarrahan's claim, he will be compelled to come back to Congress and make a light for an appropriation.

ARMY OFFICERS AS MILITIA INSTRUCTORS. Washington, Feb. 4.-The Secretary of War transmitted to the House to day a letter from the Major General commanding the Army on the subject of the detail of officers of the Army for prolonged service with the militia of the several States, and suggest that if this policy is pursued to such an extent as the general military interests seem to require it should have the sanction of law. To this end a draft of a bill is inclosed, which authorizes the Secretary of War upon the application of the Governor of any State to detail an officer of the Army for duty as instructor and inspector of militia of that State, for a period not to exceed four years. The officer so detailed is au-thorized to accept a commission in the militia forces of that State.

BUSINESS IN THE SENATE.

A LITTLE TIPF BETWEEN MESSES. BUTLER AND

HARRIS-HOUSE BILLS PASSED. Washington, Feb. 4.-In the senate to-day on motion of Mr. Sherman the President's message of Thurs-day last was distributed to committees. The Senate proceeded to the consideration of House

An interruption to the consideration of House bills in the calendar occurred when Mr. Butler asked leave to present some morning business, and when Mr. Harris objected, as he had already done to other Senators under like circumstances, a sharp dialogue took place between the two Senators, and the result was that when the calendar was resumed Mr. Butler objected to each case as it came up. After that re-taliatory course had been followed up in half a dozen cases Mr. Platt appealed to the two Senators to comogether, settle their difficulty and let business go on. Finally Mr. Botler (while contending that he was not courteously treated by Mr. Harris) withdrew the objections which he had already made, and business Among the House bills passed was the one pro viding for sundry lighthouses and other aids to mavigation, with many amendments, on which a conference was asked. A conference report on the bill concerning testimony in criminal cases under the Interstate Com-merce law was presented and agreed to. The zenate resumed consideration of House bill to ratify and confirm an agreement with the Cheroke nation of Indians of the Indian Territory and ap propriating $8,505,736 to carry it out. The Senate propriating 88,505,750 to carry it out. The Senate Committee on Indian Affairs had reported a substitute for the House bill, and many amendments were offered to this substitute. The Senate substitute was amended and agreed to and the bill was passed.

Memorial proceedings in memory of Mr. Gamble, of South Dakota: Mr. Ford, of Miedgan, and Mr. Stackhoise, of South Carolina, late members of the House of Representatives; were begun at 4 p. m. and after evolugies on each of the dead Representatives the customary resolutions were agreed to, and the Senate adjourned.

SILVER IN THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE QUIET WORK GOING ON IN BOTH BRANCHES-

PREPARING TO MEET MR. INLL'S MOTION. Washington, Feb. 4.-Qulet but systematic work or the silver question is in progress in the Senate, as the result of Mr. Hill's notice that he would call up the bill to repeal the Sherman act on Monday next. Under the rules of the Senate the motion to take up the bill is not debatable, and what is done by the friend and opponents of the bill must necessarily be accom-plished by a personal canvass. There is a difference of opinion among the opponents of repeal as to what is the better policy, but the majority of them appear to be in favor of voting down the motion to take up the bill. Mr. Teller is confident that Mr. Hill's motion will be defeated, and thinks the majority against him will be in the neighborhood of a dozen. The advocates of a repeal continued to-day, in the House, to circulate their petitions in favor of a closure amendment to the rule for consideration of the Andrew Cate bill. All the Democrats from New York except Mr. Cummings have signed. The number of signatures obtained thus far falls considerably short of a majority of the Democrats of the House.

Washington, Feb. 4.-Secretary Rusk to-day issued an order reciting that under the act of Afigust 30, 1890, the Department of Agriculture requires all cattle imported into the United States from Great Britain and the continent of Europe, to be held in quarantine a period of ninety days, and it has recen been officially declared by the authorities of Great Britain that cattle imported into England from the Dominion of Canada have been affected with con-taglous pleuro-pneumonia, and have communicated it to British cattle, and that this disease exists in the said Dominion of Canada.

It is therefore ordered that all cattle to be imported from the Dominion of Canada into the United States are hereby made subject to the regulations of the De partment of Agriculture of October 13, 1890, and the exceptions contained in the third and sixth regula-tions of said date as applicable to Canadian cattle are hereby rescinded, and cattle imported from Canada are subject to the same conditions and requirements as if they were imported into the United States from Great Britain or the continent of Europe.

It is further ordered that all neat cattle imported Dominion of Canada must be entered at the port of Buffalo, N. Y., which is hereby designated as a quarantine station, and as much of Regulation 1 of the regulations of the Department of Agricul-ture of October 13,1650, as names other ports of entry along the Canadian border as quarantine stations for cattle is hereby suspended.

INVESTIGATING THE WHISKEY TRUST. A WITNESS SAYS THAT THE INCREASE IN PRICE OF WHISKEY WAS A " GRAB.

Washington, Feb. 4.-The investigation into the Whiskey Trust was began to-day by the sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee with the examination of James N. Venzey, of Hamilton County, Mr. Venzey has been a travelling salesma since 1978, and is acquainted with the details of the liquor business. He explained the difference between whisheys, spirits and high wines. The Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company had headquarters at Peoria, 111. He did not know the exact number of estab lishments it embraced, but when formed in 1889 it included eighty-one firms. It produced alcohol.

The company had a system of relate certificates by which it sold its goods. Persons holding these certificates are allowed a rebate of about 7 cents a gallon en spirits, and from 12 to 14 cents a gallon on alcohol. The rebate is paid only in case firm deal entirely with the company. These certificates ere distributed by agents and are payable in Peoria. The company's goods are sold generally through country, and its output represented one-half of this business in this country.

The price of whiskey had increased 25 cents a gallon when a great quantity of these certificates ere out. There was no occasion for this increase were out. There was no occasion for this increase; "it was a grab." There had been no increase in the cost of production or its wage; and corn, from which their product is made, was cheaper than it had been for years. There was no scarcity in the stock or increase in the consamplism. He understood that there had been a change in the company's method of doing business in the last tairty days, probably in anticipation of this investication. The change, he thought, was regarding the rebate and voncher system. Mr. Veazey will be further examined on Monday.

TO BEGIN THE INVESTIGATION TO MORROW. At the beginning of his second term Mr. Blount was appointed a member of the Committee on Appropriations, and he has ever since been a member of leading and important committees and chairman of several of them. He has won a high reputation as a legislator of indefatigable industry and sturgy integrity, a reputation which is as deserved as

gress several of the older members quietly agreed to take advantage of the first opportunity to testify their high appreciation of his character and services, and that opp-runity came to-day when he called up the onsular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill. As soon is the bill had been read Judge Holman, who was collengue of Mr. Elonat on the Appropriations Committee of the XLIVth Congress, rose and in a brief bu teeling and appropriate speech recalled the services of the Georgia statesman, dwelt upon his virtues and oade him God-speed for the future. Judge Holman was followed by Mr. Bland, of Missouri, who enter Congress with Mr. Hount twenty years ago; by Mr Hitt, who has served half as long, and is one of Mr Blount's colleagues on the Committee on Foreign Affairs; by Mr. O'Neill, who has been in legiciative harness much longer than the Georgian and who ex-pressed his surprise that "so young a man should obuntarily relinquish his seat in the House," and by dessys. Springer and McCreary. Every speech was heartily applauded by members on both sides of the House, irrespective of party. Mr. Blount sat with his head bowed while the tide of eloquence and enlogy surged around him. As the of eloquence and enloys surged around him. As the appliance died away after Mr. McCreary had concluded the Georgian arose and in a few carnest sentences expressed his gratitude and appreciation for the praisand honor which shad been bestowed upon him. He paid a glowing tribate to the memory of Samuel J. Randall and to the speakers who had honored him. "If a desired fame," concluded Mr. Blount, "if my heart was fired with ambition, in this presence I wish to say that in the last few minutes there has been written a chapter in the history of this House that brings to me and my wife and children at home and to my friends who have followed me a sense of its consequence which will outlisst and outwelch any office in the gift of the State or Federal Government.

panies, beginning October 3, 1892. He reported that up to March 25, 1892, when Levy obtained control, the affairs of all the companies were fairly prosperous since that time Levy had used the funds of the several companies as if they were his own personal property, and the "kiting" of checks had been a eature of his management in consequence of which the three companies were insolvent. Fraud was alleged when the complaint was first served, but for he purposes of the sult this charge was withdrawn, and the sole ground of insolvency, on January 12. the Life Union were placed at $65,082 42 and the Habilities at $72,850. Levy retired from the presidency of the Life Union on December 27 last, and George Duniap was elected to the office. When Mr. McClure took charge of the affairs of the three companies he found that on the affairs of the three companies he found that on the day of his resignation as president of the Life Union Levy had drawn a check for $10,141.06 on the reserve fand of the company, and had deposited it in a bank to his personal credit. Mr. McClure demanded the return of the money and Levy promised to pay it back. He said that he had drawn the money to meet outs a said that he had drawn the money to meet outs a said that he had drawn the money to return the money occasioned the application for his arrest. Frederick A. Winaus, secretary of the company when Levy was president, made an affaiavit in which he said that Levy had directed him to draw the Winaus of the case.

said that Levy had directed him to draw the check to cash.

In explanation of the notes referred to, Mr. Winans says that the directors of the Life Union resolved in April. 1891, to buy the interest of the Flour City Life Insurance Association for $40,000, and consolidate it with the Life Union. To previde for payment the Life Union issued notes aggregating $35,000 and agreed to assume a note for $5,000, held by the Central Bank. The sum of $11,000 was raised on the notes and paid to Mr. Underhill, president of the Flour City Association, with notes for $24,000. Before the consolidation could be effected, the insurance dependent made an examination of the affairs of for later City Association which resulted in the appointment of a receiver for the concern. The notes, Mr. Wingus says, were considered by the officers of the Life Union to be invalid. There has never been a final large enough to pay them.

In default of $10,000 ball, Levy was compilited to Ludlow street Jail. He refused to see reporters or made a statement.

When he came her om Chleago eight years ago his name was William McIlroy, and he was known by that name while t nember of the firm of Benedict, McIlroy & Fowler which dissolved in February, 1892. After he left that lem he used the name of William H. McIlroy in the city directory. On February 16, 1891, Mcliroy took title to the property No. 470 Lenguage, in the name of William McIlroy, and on January 12, 1893, eleven days before his suicide, he transferred it under that name to Henry W. Benedict for a consideration of $5,000, subject to a mortgage of $10,000. Mr. Benedict had been his pariner and knew his legal name. Mr. McIlroy next became the owner of the property No. 141 Macdougal-st., under the name of William Mcllrey. It was conveyed to him through fore losure by Augustus H. Vanderpool on March 31, 1862, for a consideration of $2,000, subject to a mortgage of $62,500. He arranged the building as in spartment-house, and on January 9, 1893, placed an additional mortgage on it to Russell H Chipman of $25,000, payable in gold of demand under the name of William McClroy in the same day he gave a demand mortgage to Mr Chipman as trustee on property at the northeast corner hundred and sixteenth st. and Madison ave. for $27,000 in gold under the name of William II Mclhoy. He took title to this property ander the name of William H. Mcllroy on April 28, 1892, the onsideration being $06,000 subject to a mortgage of $40,000, and he got a building loan of $40,000 from Julius Lipman, from whom he bought the property under the name of William H. McIlroy.

On July 11, 1802, he made a mortgage under the made of William II. McIlroy on this property for $75,000 to the Citizens' Savings Bank and a building oan mortgage of #35,417 to Julius Lipman. Th building was only partly up when he took it, after a foreclosure, and he thished it as a seven-s ory apartment-house. Another operation was the Abington square Hotel, at the corner of Bleeckerst, and Abingdon Square. He bought the property under fore don Square. He sought he property and consure and finished the building. He carried on this operation in the name of William H. Mellroy, but did not get title to the property from Jerome Buck, the referre, until January 5, 1803, when the deed was recorded. It was subject to a prior morgane of $57,500, which was under foreclosure at the time of the purchase. He mortgaged it on the same day to Edward Tracy for 400,000, to Julius Lipman for $7,500, and on the next day to the Chicago Lumber Company for $55,000, all under the name of William H. McLlroy. He also gave several chatted mortgages to four femis for furnishings, and on January 7 to the Chicago Lumber Company for $55,000 on the actures, all in the name of William H. McLlroy. On January 10 he transferred this property under the name of William H. McLlroy to James Thompson, for a consideration of $500. Two days later he assigned a chattel mortgage of $3,000 to Henry W.
